

Nigel Bark – Boston, United Kingdom

Heartland
Golf Schools
From USA

Head of Junior Golf and Full Time Teaching Professional

PGA PROFESSIONAL

PGA Certification: PGA of Great Britain and Ireland– Class “A”

Education: Bachelor of Science - Psychology with Sports Science, Nottingham Trent University

Foundation Degree in Arts - Professional Golf Studies, University of Birmingham

Interests: Football, Basketball, Fitness, Travel, Cuisine

Nigel began playing golf at the age of 16 during the school holidays. He quickly became hooked with the game, spending many hours at his hometown club of Boston West developing his game.

At the age of 19 Nigel embarked on his professional career, where he discovered his true passion was for teaching. Since turning professional Nigel has continued to study to develop his teaching, including attending seminars with top instructors, shadowing national coaching sessions and attending university to read for a degree in Psychology with Sports Science. These qualifications have allowed Nigel to develop a holistic approach to coaching, with the clients goals at the centre of every lesson. With his background in psychology Nigel adapts his teaching to the individual’s needs, understanding how they learn best and the most effective methods to help get each client to achieve their goals. Having taught all age ranges (from 3 years old to 80+) and ability levels, from complete beginners through to tour professionals, Nigel has the experience and knowledge to help every individual improve all areas of their game and enjoy their golf more than ever.

Private and Confidential

The programs in this document are the property of Heartland Golf Schools and are not to be duplicated or used unless appointed by Heartland Golf Schools